

KET → PET: what changes

从 KET 到 PET：有哪些变化？

For families moving from A2 Key for Schools (KET) to B1 Preliminary for Schools (PET).

If your child has just finished KET, congratulations — the hardest part, building real exam confidence, is already done. PET builds directly on those same skills; it doesn't start from scratch. Here's exactly what's different, so you know what to expect.

如果您的孩子刚刚完成KET考试，恭喜——最难的部分，也就是建立真正的应试信心，已经完成了。PET正是在这些能力的基础上继续提升，而不是从零开始。以下是两者之间的具体差异，帮助您提前了解。

WHAT'S NEW

- One extra paper: Reading and Writing split into two standalone papers (previously combined at KET)
增加了一门考试：阅读和写作从KET阶段的合并试卷，变成两门独立的试卷
- Longer, denser reading texts with more inference required, not just literal fact-finding 阅读文章更长、信息更密集，需要更多推理理解，而不只是查找字面信息
- Writing moves from short sentences to a structured ~100-word story/article
写作从简单句子过渡到结构完整、约100词的故事或文章
- Speaking gets longer (10–12 min vs 8–10 min) and includes more independent opinion-giving 口语考试时间变长（从8-10分钟增加到10-12分钟），并需要更多独立表达观点
- Listening moves closer to natural speaking speed 听力材料的语速更接近自然语速
- Reassurance: everything the child already learned for KET carries over — PET builds on it rather than replacing it
请放心：孩子在KET阶段积累的一切——词汇习惯、应试耐力、口语自信——都会直接延续到PET阶段。PET是在KET基础上的进阶，而不是从零开始

Want a second opinion from a tutor?

想听听老师的专业意见？预约免费15分钟诊断沟通。

sound-ready.com/contact

This is a general guide based on what we typically see in students, not a formal assessment — every child develops at their own pace.

本指南基于我们对学生的一般观察经验，并非正式的水平测试——每个孩子的成长节奏都不同。